ASQUITH WILL USE CLOSURE

Veto Resolutions and Budget to be Pushed Through

TIME-TABLE IS ARRANGED

April 28th is the Date Set for the Passing of the Budget in the Commons

London, April 2.—It is learned that the government will give only one week to the consideration of the veto bill after its introduction in the House of Commons. It is expected that the bill will be presented to the House of Lords before the end of April. Should the government fail to pass the veto proposals through the Lords they will not resign, but advise dissolution and ask parliament for a vote of acquiescence to carry them through the general election. It is anticipated to take place before the end of May.

Will Use Closure.

London, April 2.—Lord and prolonged cheers greeted Asquith's declaration in the Commons yesterday that both the veto resolutions and the budget will be pushed through the Commons by rigorous use of the closure. His time table is as follows:
Monday next, division on motion;
Tuesday, closure motion for veto resolution; April 14th to 16th, veto debate in committee; April 19th, closure motion in budget; April 20th to 28th, budget.

Cherill carried the cabinet programme a step forward when with tremendous emphasis and with Asquith at his side, he seconded his speech last night with these sentences:

"The Lords have flouted the presents of the crown and the privileges of the Commons. It is necessary, therefore, that crown and Commons, acting together, shall restore the constitution of the country."
On the question of tactics, Redmond and the ministry remain at variance.
Redmond still concentrating on the veto alone, persists that the final stages of the budget in the Commons must follow, not precede the decision of the Lords on the veto and that the King must be pressed for guarantees immediately the Lords reject the veto.

The ministry, on the contrary, contend that the budget must pass before they can expect the King to pledge his word to erect the necessary presents to coerce the Lords.

Redmond may, of course, defeat the plan by killing the budget in the Commons. The King also may defeat the plan by refusing guarantees and compelling Asquith to resign. Halfway may defeat the plan by boldly taking all risks and accepting the King's commission to form a ministry in the teeth of a hostile majority in the Commons and chaos in national finances.

There is a further chance of disintegration of the cabinet and the ministry party. Haldane has, apparently, been driven from his position against coercion of the King. Grey has the mortification of seeing his Lords' reform proposals buried. Moreover, the overwhelming defeat of the labor candidate by the unofficial Liberal in the Glamorgan election is a fresh reminder to the Laborites of the disfranchisement of an alliance with official Liberalism.

WILL NOT AFFECT CANADA

Strike of United Mine Workers Will Not Affect Canadian Fields

Petrie, B.C., April 2.—The general strike here in the bituminous coal district in the United States is unlikely to cause any disturbance among the miners of the Crow's Nest district and the Southern Alberta coal field.

Neither the mine workers, officials, nor those of the coal companies are looking for any trouble as a result of the calling out of the miners in the States mentioned where the strike has been declared. The two years' agreement which was entered into a year ago has been giving general satisfaction, while in the case where no agreement have been arrived at, the feeling is mutually conciliatory and in no place is there any friction of consequence.

SETTLERS ARRIVE IN THE THOUSANDS

Present Week Has Been the Heaviest in Immigration for Some Years

Montreal, April 2.—Seventeen special trains from Halifax and St. John are due at Montreal this week end, with over six thousand immigrants,
this high rush ending the biggest week in the immigration line that Canada has had for a good many years.

Over 1,000 settlers have reached this country during the week. In this party there are six special trains from the Empress of Britain and several from other boats, while six special laden with immigrants are coming in over the Intercolonial and Grand Trunk. Most of the settlers are bound for the far west.

That they are well laden with supplies is shown by the fact that the C.P.R. had to send 15 baggage cars to St. John to bring forward the effects of the people coming in over that line.
Included in the party are thirty families comprising about 150 people who are going to Calgary, to take up farms under Sir Thos. Shaughnessy's latest scheme of ready-made farms for settlers in the irrigation country.

MONEY VOTED TO IMPROVE HARBORS

Government Aims to Better Grain
Routes and to Help Divert
That Trade

Ottawa, April 2.—The House in committee of supply on Friday voted large sums for harbor and river improvements.

One of the first votes passed was $800,000 for harbor improvements at Fort William and Port Arthur, to which there was no opposition. On the vote of $55,000 for St. Andrew's rapids improvements objection was taken by an opposition member that large expenditures which have been incurred were not justified by results which might be expected.

Mr. Pugsley expressed the opinion that there would be considerable river traffic between Winnipeg and Lake Winnipeg in the future, as a result of the completion of the work. Mr. Pugsley explained that the $500,000 voted for Tiffin harbor would about complete the work of dredging that harbor to a depth of 25 feet at low water. This was one of the works recommended by the commission on transportation. The Grand Trunk was spending several millions at Tiffin and expected to be able to divert to that port much of the grain trade now going to Buffalo.

and Completed Journey in Rainstorm

Ottawa, April 2.—Placing herself between the shafts of the cutter after her horse had fallen through the thin surface of the ice roads across Lake Nipissing and had been drowned, Mrs.
Fortier, a woman whose home is in Warren, Ont., dragged her three children five miles across the lake to safety through a cold rain, arriving at a place of safety in one of the stopping places along the road all but exhausted but with her three little ones, the oldest of whom is ten years,
warm and comfortable between blankets and buffalo robes in the sleigh.
Mrs. Fortier's feat is one that is unprecedented in all the annals of the north country, and her luck and heroism is the chief topic of conversation in the camps in the neighborhood of Colab.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 2.—

NEW COMPENSATION PLAN

State of Wisconsin May Adopt Some Advanced Legislation

Madison, Wis., April 2.—Tentative bills relating to workmen's compensation are being sent out this week from the Madison headquarters of the legislative committee on industrial insurance. The proposed bills are designed to change the whole system of compensating industrial workers for loss of wages through injury received while on duty. As in other states, it is usually necessary in Wisconsin for a workman who has suffered loss through injury to resort to the courts for relief. The cost of such actions is high, and this cost, in the aggregate, according to the results of the Wisconsin committee's inquiries, is little short of astounding.

Acting upon the generally accepted theory that the cost of these indirectary accidents should be borne by the industry, and through it, by society, the Wisconsin committee has drafted a tentative bill designed to provide the injured workman with a fair part of his regular wages.

Regina's Street Railway

Regina, April 2.—Regina's street railway deal is closed so far as it is possible to close before the ratemakers vote on the laylaw. J. W. de C. O'- Grady has sent a marked cheque for $150,000 which is now in the hands of the city, as a guarantee of good faith, and his willingness to proceed with the contract. Evidently the financial world looks upon Regina's deal as a good investment, for already offers to purchase stock have been made. Mayor William has received from a Scottish financier an offer to purchase stock in the Regina street railway at par. As his Worship doesn't happen to have any of the stock, he was unable to sell to the financial man, but the offer has been forwarded to Mr. O'Grady, and doubtless will be accepted when the stock is floated.

ADAM BEECH ARRESTED

He is Charged with Stealing C. P. R.
Grain Car Doors

On a charge of stealing 180 grain car doors from the C.P.R., Adam Beech was arrested at his home at 200 Curry street yesterday afternoon by Detective Simpson. Beech was taken to the station, and pleaded not guilty before Magistrate Cowan in the police court. The case will come up for trial on Tuesday.

For some time past the C.P.R. has been suffering from this sort of thief-ing. It is said that thousands of their grain car doors are stolen every year, and so an effort is being made to bring the thieves to justice. George Grierson, of Calgary, special agent for the company, has been working on the case, and as the result of some good detective work, Beech was apprehended. It was found that at Beech's place on Curry street, the well was lined with these doors, and a chicken house and runway are completely built of them. It is believed that the doors were taken from cars that had been unloaded at the City Flour Mills on Curry street.

Toronto, April 2.—Because she had not the twenty-five dollars required by the government regulations, Mrs. Cor-

John, N.B., on Saturday last. She was not allowed to land and will be returned to England this week despite the fact that she was coming to a turing Company, of Clinton, that she was to report to the British Women's Association of London, England, and as opportunities in Canada for female labor from England, and that the Jackson Company explained to the department all the circumstances.

LICENSES ARE REDUCED

Local Option is Making a Big Difference in Ontario

Toronto, April 2.—The report of the provincial license department shows that a reduction of 112 tavern and shop licenses was made during 1908-9.
For the current license year of 1909-10
there has been issued only 1,853 tavern and 244 shop licenses, which represents a further reduction of 149.
This is accounted for by the increasing number of municipalities in which local option is in force and reduction of licenses authorized by municipal laws.

sible that the report of the demist of this

CITY CLERK GILLIS IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Calgary Has Another City Hall
Sensation—This Time Over
G.T.P. Plans

Calgary, April 2.—Calgary has another city hall sensation. Last Saturday City Clerk Gillis received the map of the amended location of the G. T. P., signed by E. J. Changier, general manager of the G. T. P., and Mr. McKillop, chief engineer, showing the approach of the road as far as the Elbow river, directly east of the bridge. Of course that was very valuable information for many Calgary people. Mr. Gillis did not file that letter, as is his usual course, but put it away in his desk. He did not bring it before the commissioners, as might be expected. He did not bring it before the council on Tuesday last, as might be expected. He did not show it to Major Jamieson and he did show it to some local real estate men in this city. This explains the unprecedented demand for property on what is marked out as the route.

The first news of the valuable possession sifted out through some of the real estate offices, which had been favored by the city clerk and through them to the newspaper reporters.
With the exception of the mayor, no commissioner and no alderman, as far as can be learned, ever heard about the plans. And the aldermen of the council are now asking several questions: "Why?" "What next?"

PORTLAND DECIDES OUR MONEY IS GOOD

Oregon Bankers Will Take it Just as if it Were Their Own

Portland, Ore., April 2.—Portland banks have decided to accept all Canadian currency at par. At a meeting of the clearing house this week it was agreed to put Canadian coin on an equal basis with United States currency in the transaction of all business throughout the city. This will mean that merchants generally will take Canadian money at its face value.

Nothing like this has ever before been done here. Canadian ten-cent pieces, because of their similarity to the United States dime, have always passed here as equal to the latter coin, but pieces of larger denomination have been barred from general circulation and holders of the money have had to accept a discount to pass it.

Portland bankers realize the importance of the growing interchange of travel and commerce between Canadian cities and Portland and they believe the change will add largely to the convenience of their customers.
Large parties of travellers from Canada pass through here either by the Canadian Pacific-Soo route or by the Vancouver Sound route, and the new order will be welcomed by hotel proprietors as well as by business men generally.

LAD FOUGHT FOR A WIFE

He Was Seventeen and the Girl Only Fifteen

FIRE AT PURSUING POSSE

Girl Climbed From a Window With a Rope Made of the Bed-
Clothes

San Diego, Cal., April 2.—Armed with two revolvers and determined to do battle for the lady of his choice against any odds, Thomas Foreman, 17 years old, the son of a wealthy merchant of this city, for the second time closed this week with Gertrude Seifert, his 15-year-old sweetheart, and headed for Death Valley in an automobile.

His passage was stayed by the snow, which blocked the roads at Des Canos, 25 miles east of here, and it is reported that a battle has occurred at that place, the youthful Lochier, standing off a posse which set out in pursuit.

Young Foreman's first attempt to elope with Miss Seifert was made about a week ago, but the couple were captured at Santa Ana, en route to Los Angeles, and brought back. Foreman was not to be daunted, however, and early Monday night he got word to Miss Seifert to be ready when he came. To finance the expedition he borrowed from his father and friends, then, securing two revolvers, and chartering a motor car, he appeared under his lady's window when darkness had fallen. With courage that rivalled the lad's own, Miss Seifert knocked her bed sheets together and slid from her window to the ground.

In another moment the machine was racing down the road headed for the Cuyamaca Mountains beyond which lies Death Valley. Deputy Sheriff Thomas, stationed at Des Canos, was the first to see the runaway couple as the machine sped through the village early in the morning. He organized a posse and took up the trail of the automobile, overtaking it a mile and a half beyond Des Canos. The machine was struck in a snow bank.

Foreman, when he saw the posse approaching, grabbed the girl by the arm, and the two ran swiftly to a clump of brush, into which they plunged. As he ran he fired several shots at the posse, who refrained from replying for fear of hitting her girl.
When ordered to surrender Foreman hotly declared that he would kill as many of his pursuers as he could and then kill the girl and himself. Fearing that he would carry his threat into action prevented a rush on his hiding place.

Later—Word was received here that Foreman and Miss Seifert, loaded with provisions, had abandoned their abscondade near Des Canos, eluded the police, and were fleeing in the direction of Cuyamaca. The trail has been taken, and the father of the girl has started around the mountain in an automobile to head off the couple.

MORREL IS VERY DOUBTFUL

It Looks as if the Star Fielder Will Stay out of the Game This Year.—Lee Wolfe Will be Signed

In conversation with Deacon White today The Capital learned that the Edmonton manager has just about given up hope of getting Morrel, the fast outfielder, last year with Brandon.

Morrel announced early in the season that he would be out of the game this year, but everybody thought it was a gigantic bluff. Now it turns out Lee was very much in earnest, and if he does not change his mind very shortly Deacon will be under the painful necessity of looking for another gardener. But there is one thing certain, and that is that if Morrel does not play with Edmonton he will not be seen with any other team in the W. C. L.

Deacon has a good man in view for the vacant position in the outfield. This prospective's name is Lee Wolfe and he hails from Los Angeles. His price is a little high, but Mr. White will try to come to terms with him. He has had much experience in coast league ball and is highly recommended by prominent magnates. He is a strong batter and a fast fielder and what is more, can hit the ball when a hit is absolutely necessary. Deak says, "Wolfe is, if anything, a better man than Morrel."

A letter was received this morning from a catcher named Frank Chisholm who hails from Seattle. Chisholm used to play in the same league with Deak about five years ago. Frank was just a youngster then, but claims to have improved very much in the intervening years. Says he can bat and throw well to bases. Deacon will do nothing about this man at present, as the catching department is being kept open. Copeland is the regular team catcher, and his assistant will be named later. Chisholm says that Lasei is in good shape, and seems very anxious for the season to open.

Breman has not yet signed his contract, but there is no doubt about it. The second catcher, as Deacon has received several letters from Jack during the winter and he seemed extremely satisfied with the terms offered. His signed contract will probably be along in a few days and then the team will be practically intact.

A NEW RUGBY PLAYER

The Herald says: "It is reported that the Tigers will again strengthen their Rugby team this year by adding a man named Small, who is anything but a man what his name indicates. He is a wing man and weighs, judging from his appearance, about 185 pounds. This will be for two new men the Tigers are counting on."

REGINA NOT IN GOOD SHAPE

Unless the Ball Club Sells $5,000 of New Stock it Will be Doubtful Whether Team Will Report

The Regina Baseball Club is not in the best of shape, despite reports to the contrary. From an account in a Regina paper we find that the team is in a very bad way. The officers of the baseball club are still endeavoring to place between $3,000 and $4,000 worth of stock, and it is announced that unless at least the smaller amount mentioned was before the team was ready to go into training, dissolution would result. This move will mean the cancellation of all contracts, which would eventually mean the loss of the franchise for Regina. Unless the stock is sold there will be no professional baseball.

A rumor has gained circulation to the effect that Arthur Smith, the secretary of the baseball club here, intended to resign. This has been absolutely contradicted today. Mr. Smith said to The Standard he would not resign from the position until he had made a success of the project, if that were possible, and he considered that the chances were good, providing the remaining stock could be sold."

MORROW IS WELL FIXED

The New Brandon Manager Has His Players All Signed—Report Says He Has a Fast Bunch

Bill Morrow, the new manager of the Brandon baseball club, has been losing no time. A despatch received from him this afternoon says the players are all signed, will report at once, and the training trip games will begin shortly at Rockford, Ill.

Manager Morrow, at Elgin, Ill., has been in a most desirable location to get a line on fast men, as thousands of smart players congregate in the vicinity of Chicago in the springtime, and a live man like Morrow in touch with the situation can get the pick of the players not wanted by the professional and semi-pro clubs.

Morrow brought to Duluth two years ago probably the fastest bunch of players ever brought into this country. From the information to hand Manager Morrow is likely to repeat. He has a fast crowd signed up, and when the team arrives in Brandon it may be depended upon to be a speedy crew.

Morrow is out to get a pennant-winning team.

CITY LEAGUE MEETING

The reorganization meeting of the City Amateur Baseball League will be held on Monday evening, when the able direction of A. H. Fidler, an attempt will be made to put the league on a working basis. All delegates are expected to be present.

MEMOIRS OF THE '07 TEAM

Some Ancient History of Deacon White's Famous 1907 Nine—Picture on This Page

The Saturday News, of September 7, 1907, says: "The Edmonton team has supplied a clear fast article of ball. The players have made heaps of friends for themselves, who hope most of them will be back another season. As for the officers and particularly the playing manager, Deacon White is entitled to the thanks of the citizens for what they have done for the summer amusement of Edmonton.

The league race was a very close one and the final standing was:

	Won.	Lost	P.C.
Medicine Hat	50	34	.622
Edmonton	50	35	.588
Lethbridge	40	44	.476
Calgary	26	59	.306

Edmonton looked like winners from the start. They did uniformly well throughout the season, and for the week ending August 17, had an enviable record. On Saturday they won a double-header from Calgary 3-1 and 7-2. McClair and Crist were pitching. Lethbridge was defeated by Medicine Hat on Friday 2-1 and the next day the tables were turned, the latter winning by 6-4. The first three days of the week, Medicine Hat played in Edmonton and lost three straight games, 7-0, 3-1, and 7-1. Erickson, Blexrud and Crist being on the slab. In the meantime Lethbridge defeated Calgary twice on Monday 2-1 and 5-2. Calgary won on Tuesday by 6-6 and ran interfered on Wednesday. On Thursday night in Edmonton, the leaders strengthened their position by winning from Lethbridge by 4-0. Erickson again doing the trick.

But Edmonton did not hold its proud position, and fell down in the stretch.

This was the year that Manager Deacon White sold his famous catch, the Kid Ford to the Philadelphia Athletics for $10,000. Ford will be noticed at the right hand corner of the picture on this page, and McClair, Blexrud, Wessler and Lisi will be members of the 1910 Edmonton team are also in the group.

Deacon White is the only man who ever made a success of professional baseball in this city and it is expected that this season will see a pennant won by the locals.

SOUNDS VERY REMARKABLE

Story Says that a Legitimate Youngster With only one Seal is a Star Athletic—Plays Tennis, Basketball, Etc.

Spokane, Wash., April 2.—Charles Galbraith, 18 years of age, living with his parents at 1317 Fifteenth avenue in this city, is declared by Van Cook, physical director of the Spokane South Central High School, where the boy is a student, to be the most remarkable all-round amateur athlete in the world. Galbraith stands five feet ten three-quarter inches and weighs 130 pounds, and, despite the handicap of being a cripple having lost his right leg at the knee four years ago, he is today the star swimmer in the Y.M.C.A. aquatic contests, captain of the high school class basketball team, tennis expert, gymnast and leader of the school apparatus squad, wrestler and horseman. When walking in the streets and in the school room he uses crutches, but he does not need them in the "gym" or in the field. Cook, who has had international experience as a teacher of athletics, says the boy is without doubt the most wonderful bunch of grit and energy in the United States. He is a bright scholar and stands well in front of his class.

Manager Lohr, of the Maroons received a letter from Ducky Holmes, his third baseman. "Ducky" is prepared "to play the game of his life" this season.

Billy Hamilton, of Medicine Hat, has signed a new man. He is quite a youngster—only a week old, in fact, but if he is a chip off the old block he should be of big league calibre.

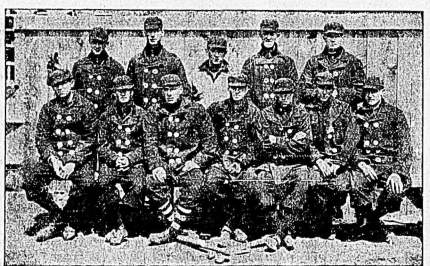

ATTELL AND MORAN DRAW

These Two Clever Featherweights Went Ten Whirlwind Rounds at New York

New York, April 1.—Abe Attell, the featherweight champion, and Owen Moran of England, fought a marvelous ten-round draw tonight in their encounter at the Fairmount A. C. The fight was wonderfully scientific, and was the third meeting of the gladiators. In the trio of encounters they have travelled fifty-three rounds and neither ever received a decision in his favor. From the top of the opening glove tonight till the final clang they never wasted one second. Neither were giving and they spent very little time hugging. In the encounter Attell might have landed a few more clean blows than his rival, but Moran made up for the deal by the strength of his wallpots. The Englishman had an advantage in the weight over the little Yankee feather. When they stood on the scales Moran tipped the beam at 129 pounds, while Attell was seven pounds lighter. In all of his battles around here Attell met only one boy that gave him a closer fight than Moran. That was Jim Driscoll, another Englishman, who shaded the champion last season.

Pitcher Campbell of last year's champions, is holding out for $7500 per month. Unless he gets it he will play independent ball in the States. Bill says if "Betty" refuses to sign up, the pitcher will be blacklisted for life.

RESERVATIONS POURING IN

Tex. Rickard Says the Gate for the Big Fight Will be at Least $350,000—Expects 80,000 People

San Francisco, Calif., April 2.—The size of the "gate" at the Jeffries-Johnson fight is a matter of much speculation here. That the receipts of the big fight will overtop all previous marks is, however, believed by all. According to Tex. Rickard, one of the promoters, the arena has a capacity of 80,000. "In my opinion, the receipts will not fall below $350,000," said Rickard yesterday. "We are not in proper shape to record reservations yet and we are simply swamped with applications for seats. England has 125 choice seats, and three hundred have been reserved for New York parties. Cleveland, Ohio, has taken 125 ring-side seats, and the colored people of the middle west have spoken for 200 seats."

A player from Alaska (whether Eskimo or no, is not mentioned) desires a try-out with Medicine Hat team. Billy Hamilton looked up the transportation charges from Alaska and then fell in a deep faint.

Miller, of the Maroons, who ran a nail into his foot on Monday, is able to get around again, and will be out at practice just as soon of the grounds dry up.

STAN. KETCHELL AND LANGFORD

Will Battle at Frisco on July 2nd for a Purse of $30,000—Fight Will go 25 Rounds

San Francisco, Calif., April 2.—Jim Griffin, muckchucker of the Broadway Athletic club, announced tonight he will make another strong bid for the Langford-Ketchell match to take place here on Saturday, July 2. He is willing to guarantee from $25,000 to $30,000 to get the fight, and the two middle-weights can split the money to suit themselves.

"We will make our best offer," said Griffin. "It will probably be $30,000 for a twenty or a twenty-five round fight. I haven't heard a word from Ketchell, but he does not think there will be any trouble with Langford, for we have been talking to Joe Woodman. If we can't land the fight it simply will be because Ketchell absolutely will refuse to take on the Boston colored man."

Griffin also announced a twenty round fight between Owen Moran and Tommy McCarthy, which will take place here on April 20.

Calgary will have another good man for its baseball team in Tallant the Stanford University outfielder, who is touted as a wonder. Manager Brown of Vancouver, has the hooks in Tallant, but he does not need him, and has offered to turn him over to Bill Carson.

President Cousins, of the Medicine Hat team, is considering sending his team to Washington State for a two week's training trip. He expects to arrange games with Spokane. Might we suggest to Mr. Cousins that he send the team's uniforms to a laundry, while he feels in a "sending" humor.

Have you called at the Standard Clothing Co., Ltd.? If not you are missing something.

FINE GROUNDS AT LETHBRIDGE

President Eckstrom is Determined to Have the Best Park on the Circuit—Citizens Raising Money

Lethbridge, April 2.—A meeting of the directors of the Lethbridge Club was held yesterday and it was decided to carry on an active campaign for the successful promotion of baseball in this city. Medicine Hat, Regina, Moose Jaw and the other clubs have had no difficulty in securing support and Lethbridge being, without a doubt, the most prosperous of the minor cities of the league, should not experience trouble in putting a team in the field with a strong financial backing.

President C. J. Eckstrom of the Western Canada League and owner of the Lethbridge ball park, is going to have the grounds remodelled with the hope of giving Lethbridge the distinction of having the best ball park on the Western Canada League circuit.

The position of the diamond will not be altered, as this cannot be bettered, but the grounds will be put in the finest of shape, and several changes on the general appearance will be made.

Pitcher Campbell of last year's champions, is holding out for $7500 per month. Unless he gets it he will play independent ball in the States. Bill says if "Betty" refuses to sign up, the pitcher will be blacklisted for life.

Signed on behalf of the Caledonian Football Club.

PRACTISE FOR THE CALLIES

Members of the Champion Soccer Team are Asked to Turn out on Monday—A Letter of Thanks to Messrs Ward and Pirie

The committee of the Caledonian football club requests all players that have signed on for the coming season to be present at the exhibition grounds Monday evening for practice, also those who have omitted to sign. An opportunity will be given them on Monday to affix their signatures to the contract forms.

As the football season is expected to open up earlier this year, the players are requested to make a big effort to attend on Monday night's practice, when Mr. Anderson, the trainer, will start and put the boys through the first stage of the game.

The Caledonian football club has sent the following letter to Messrs. J. W. Ward and Pirie, who represented the Edmonton Football League at the meeting in Calgary, last Monday, of the Alberta Football Association.

Dear Sirs:—

"The committee and players of the Caledonian Football Club extend their sincere thanks for the able way in which you looked after the Callies case. It was owing to your able work that we won our case against the Lloydminster Club."

We are extremely grateful for the splendid manner in which you fought our case.

Signed on behalf of the Caledonian Football Club.

JAS MARTIN, Secretary.

PROGRAM FOR VICTORIA DAY

A Joint Meeting of Edmonton and Fort Saskatchewan Delegates Decide on the Events

A lengthy schedule of events for the Victoria Day celebration at Fort Saskatchewan was drawn up last evening at a meeting of delegates from the Fort and Edmonton athletic club. Following is the list of events: Ten mile race, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, quarter mile run, half mile run, one mile run, mile relay race, putting 16 lb. shot, putting 36 lb. weight, running high jump, running hop, step and jump, one mile walk, tug of war Junior events, under 16 years: 100 yard dash, 440 yard dash, half mile.

The 20 mile Marathon race will be omitted this year, as interest in long distance running seems to be on the wane.

It was recommended that the following gentlemen be asked to act as field officers: W. Rea, J. McPherson, P. Dunn, J. A. Dorman, T. M. Turnbull, P. E. Dutehart.

Zbyesco is in Trouble

Chicago, April 2.—Stanislaus Zbyesco was made the defendant in a suit for $25,000, which was filed in the circuit court today by Dr. J. G. Message. The action is for breach of contract. Attorney General Marshall, who filed the suit, declared that Zbyesco signed a contract last fall with Message, agreeing to give several wrestling exhibitions for the latter. This agreement, according to Attorney-General Marshall, Zbyesco has failed to keep and as a result the suit was begun. Message is well known in sporting circles.

Moose Jaw must be going to have a team of catchers this season. They have acted as Ward and Pirie, who purchased Gardner from Regina and say they are after another.

Our fat friend, Wally Smith, who played third bag for Calgary, last season, passed through that city, yesterday, on his way to the coast. Wally is to have a try out with the Vancouver team. Smith's record last year was: Batting, .339; fielding, .900.

An automobile company has offered 20 auto as a prize for the best batsman in any of the organized leagues, Wilson and Zimmerman, both of the 111s, battled around the 400 mark last year and should make a strong bid for the car this season.

THE OPINION OF CHARLIE WHITE

The Noted Referee Says that the Coming Fight is a 10 to 9 Chance and Take Your Choice

Every year, Canadian or American, that one picks up now has some reference to the coming Jeffries-Johnson fight on July 4th next. One paper tells how Louie Roseberry and a bunch of English noblemen will spend to Frisco via special train for the fight, another relates how the race track at Emeryville will accommodate 100,000 spectators, and still another states that Sir Robert Perks has denounced the coming fight as a brutal exhibition, and so on.

But the story which seems to solve the question of why the people of America take such interest in the mill emanates from Charlie White, the noted referee.

Charlie was seated in a New York cafe last week and with him was a crowd of sporting men. Naturally, the conversation veered to the big question: "Who will win the fight?" White replied: "The fact that it is a battle where the color line is a factor makes it intensely interesting. It is the first time a white man has been asked to recover the heavyweight championship from a negro, and Jeff realizes the importance of it, and what is expected of him. It is a question of black versus white, and that is the reason Jeffries will enter the ring the favorite, come what may."

"When poor old Peter Jackson hovered around the championship no one seemed to bother about him. He was hardly considered, but it is different with Jack Johnson. He has done a whole lot of damage to the white race, and the pride of the latter is somewhat shattered. The color of the fighter should never enter the argument where merit is concerned."

"Some of the best fighters this country ever knew were negroes. Look at Joe Gans, George Dixon, and Joe Wolcott. White folks were as proud of them as if they were white; that is, the fair minded people. So it should be in the case of Johnson. Naturally, there is a feeling among the white race leaning toward Jeffries, but to the honest sporting man, who pays his money to see the fight there should be no preference, any more than there would be in a horse race where one horse was white and the other black. It is a question of ability and which is the better man."

"It will be one of the most interesting fights in the history of pugilism," continued White, "on account of its glorious uncertainty. Jeffries' condition is uncertain. It may be as good as he ever was, and he may not. Johnson has never whipped anybody that Jeffries could not have whipped in probably less time. It is such a close thing that I were a betting man, I would take 10 to 9 and let the other fellow do the picking."

THE "DINGE" HAS BIRTHDAY

Was Thirty-two Years old Yesterday—Spent Morning in Police Court and Gave a Dance in Evening

Chicago, April 2.—Jack Johnson, the champion pugilist who appeared in the municipal court yesterday on a charge of speeding his auto on Michigan avenue, gave the court a surprise by denouncing a jury trial. Furthermore Johnson said he wanted at least two colored men on the jury. The court set the trial for April 8. After Johnson had disposed of his court engagements he went to his home, where he acted as host to a large party which had assembled to celebrate the pugilist's 32nd birthday.

SOME OBJECTIONS TO ALCOHOL.

(Published Under the Direction of the Committee of the Edmonton and District Temperance Union—Written by an Edmonton Physician.)

A remedy that is so powerful as to make a man lose possession of himself, to make a strong-willed and determined man helpless, that can so change all the natural organism and produce such ravages in the liver, stomach, brain and kidneys as to produce death; that cannot only make a man insane but can also cause him to transmit nervous diseases, insanity, idiocy to his offspring, is a remedy that should be shunned and used as little as possible. The same precautions should surround the prescribing of alcoholics as surround the prescribing of the opiates. Both of these remedies are eminently narcotics; a habit frequently formed in the sick room. It might be truthfully said that there are many men who drink only occasionally, and who seemingly never pass beyond this period. The question should then be asked, where does the vast number of drunkards come from, if not from this particular class of moderate drinkers?

There is one thing certain, if men never drink at all there would be no drunkards. The ranks of the drunkards must be recuperated from the ranks of the so-called moderate drinkers.

Another erroneous idea is that alcohol is a food, that it can sustain life. This is a serious mistake. A food is something that will sustain life indefinitely without producing injurious results. The post-mortem rooms are filled with diseased forms showing injuries results caused by the use of alcoholics. A food is a substance which does not create the demand for an increased consumption of itself. Bread, beefsteak and potatoes when taken do not create a desire for more bread, beefsteak and potatoes, a point of satiety is reached. With alcohol, however, it is different. One drink frequently creates the demand for another, and two create the demand for a third, and so on until the individual is completely under its control. There is no natural food that has a similar property.

All foods with which we are acquainted can sustain life indefinitely without injury. Nearly all animals sustain themselves by partaking of one particular kind of food. If alcohol were a food it ought to sustain life indefinitely. We know very well that it cannot do so. In case of a man going upon a spree, alcohol in excess takes the place of food, yet at the end of one or two weeks he may be absolutely insane, his nervous system is wrecked; his stomach will no longer digest food, and no organ in his body is in a normal condition.

Prof. Adolf Struppel, of the University of Erlanger, said that "simple, typical chronic gastritis and enteritis among adults are so exceedingly often of alcoholic origin that all other causes compared with it fall far into the background," and states further that reports from a number of large hospitals for the insane between the years 1893 and 1898 showed that the percentage of insanity due to alcohol in those institutions ranged from 24 to 70 per cent.

Dr. Aschaffenburg, in a celebrated work on criminality, showed that the three centres of crime in Germany are Bromberg, the center of spirit-drinking; Pfalz, the centre of wine-drinking, and Bavaria, the centre of beer-drinking.

Dr. Aschaffenburg states that beer-drinking in Bavaria is the direct factor in criminality.

The Ladies' Home Journal announces that among a series of vital topics to be discussed by distinguished men and women during the year, will be the question of prohibition and temperance.

God give us men! A time like this demands.

Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands;

Men whom the lust of office does not kill;

Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;

Men who possess opinions and a will;

Men who have honor; men who will not lie;

Men who can stand before a demagogue

And scorn his treacherous flatteries without winking.

Of all men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog

In public duty and in private thinking; For while the rabble, with their thumbs-upon creeds,

Their loud professions and their little deeds—

Mingle in selfish strife, lo! Freedom weeps,

Wrong rules the land, and waiting Justice sleeps.

The Man From Brodney's

By GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON

Copyright, 1908, by Dodd, Mead & Co.

potential look. Neenab smiled happily, unconsciously, in return. "Allah help us, you should say, if Von Blitz returns," interposed Chasse hastily. "Is the door barred?"

"No, excellency. The bars have sprung. I cannot drop them in place. As you know, the lock has been blown away. The charge sprang the bolts. We must go at once."

"Then there is no way to keep them out of the chateau?" cried Genera anxiously.

"They can go no farther than this room," explained Selim. "We lock the double iron doors from the other side of the door through which you came, most glorious excellency—and they cannot enter the cellars above. This is the chamber which opens into the underground passage to the coast. The passage was made for escape from the chateau in case of trouble and was known to but few. My father was the servant of Sahib Wyckholme, and I used to live in the chateau."

"Once there was a boat, a launch, which lay hidden below the cliffs on the north coast. The passage led to the boat. It was always ready to put out to sea. But one night it was destroyed by the great rocks which fell from the cliffs in an earthquake."

"When I came here I at once thought of the passage. You will see that the doors into the cellar cannot be opened from this chamber. The locks and bolts are on the other side. I knew where the keys were hidden. It was easy to unlock the doors and come into this room. I found that some one had been here before me. The door to the passage had been forced open from without, cracked by dynamite. Many more of the treasure boxes have been removed. Von Blitz was here not an hour ago. He wears boots. I saw the footprints among the naked ones in the passage. They will come back for the other chests. Then they will blow up the passageway with powder, and escape from the chateau through it will be cut off. I have found the keys of powder in the passage and have destroyed the fuses. It will be of no avail, saahib. They will blow it up at the other end, which will be just the same."

"There's no time to be lost," cried Chasse. "We must bring enough powder down here to capture them when they return—shoot 'em if necessary. Come on! We can surprise them if we hurry."

They were starting across the chamber toward the door when a gruff, respectful oath came rolling up to the chamber through the secret passage. Quick as a flash Selim, who realized that they could not reach and open the door leading to the stairs, turned in among the huge wine casks, first blinding his lantern. He whispered for the others to follow. In a moment they were crouching behind the dark, strong smelling casks, back into a darkness so opaque that it seemed lifeless.

"They won't suspect that we are here," whispered Selim as the door to the passage creaked. "Keep quiet! Don't breathe!"

The single electric light was still burning as Selim had found it when he first came. The door swung open slowly, heavily, and Jacob von Blitz, mad covered, reeking with perspiration and panting savagely, stepped into the light. Behind him came a man with a lantern and behind him two others.

They were white men, all. Von Blitz turned suddenly and cursed the man with the lantern. The fellow was ready to drop with exhaustion. Evidently it had been no easy task to remove the chests.

CHAPTER XXII. SEVERAL PHILOSOPHERS. THE four burly men sat down upon the chests. Von Blitz alone being visible to the watchers. They were tagged to the last extreme.

"Dis is der last?" panted Von Blitz, blowing hard and stretching his big arms. "I fix him," he growled. "His time will come, by tam! I let him know he can't take my vives away mit him. Der dog! I fix him some day purdy soon. Und dem tam vinnem! Der run away mit him, eh? Ach, Gott, I could only put my hands by der necks yet!"

"Vat for you fret, Yacob?" growled one of the Boers. "You couldn't take der vinnem back by Europ mit you. I tink you got good luck by losing dem. Minder Chasse can't take dem back needer. Don't fret."

"Vell," said Von Blitz, arising, "come on, boys. Dis is der last of dem. Den I blow der tam ting up. Grab hold der doost. Up mit it, Jan. Vat? No?"

"Gott in himmel, Yacob, wait a minutes! My back is broke!" protested Joost stubbornly. Von Blitz swore steadily for a minute, but could not move the impassive Boers.

"Vat for you tink I want you in on dis, you vives? To sit around and dream? Nobody else knows about dis treasures, and ve got it all for ourselves—ve four and no more, and you say, 'Vat's der hurry?' It's all ours. Ve divide it oop in der cave mit all der money ve got from der bank. Vat? Yes? Den, ven der time comes, ve send it all by Australia and no von is der vizer. Der natives von't know, and der white peebles von't be alive to care about it."

"I don't like dot scheme to rob der bank," growled Jan. "If der peebles get on to us, dey would cut us to pieces."

"But dey von't get on to us, you fool. Dey wouldn't take it themselves if it was handed to dem. Dey're too honest—yes. Vell, don't dey say v're honest too? Vell, vat more you want? Dey don't know how much money and rubles dere is in der bank. Ve von't take all of it—and dey von't know der difference. Ve burn der books. Das is all. Ve get in by der bank tonight, boys."

"I don't like id," said Joost. "Id's stealing from our friends, Yacob. Besides, if der oler heils should go before der government mit der story, 'vat dey'?"

"Der oler heils vill never get der chance, boys. Dey vill die mit der plague—in, hai! Sure! Dey von't be so oler heils. Insulin says it must be so. Ve can't wait, boys. It vill be years before der business is settled. Ve must get vat ve can now and wait for der decision afterwards. Brodney has wrote to Russia, saying dat dot Chasse feller isgo stay here vredder ve vant von oler heils. He says Chasse is a good man! By tam, it makes me cry to tink of vat he has done by me—dot good man!"

To the amusement of all the burly German began to blubber.

"Come on, Yacob," said Jan gruffly. Von Blitz shook his fist at the door across the chamber and thundered his final imaledictions.

"Sir John says in der letter to Minder Chasse dere is a movements on foot in London to settle der comest out of court," volunteered Joost.

"Sure, but he also say dat ve all may die mit old age before it is over yet."

"Don't forget der plague!" said Jan. They growled mightily as they lifted the heavy chest to their shoulders and started for the door.

"Close der door, Jan," commanded Von Blitz from the passage. "Ve vill light der fire ven ve haf got beyond der first bend. Vat? Look! By tam, von of you svine has broke der fuse. Vatt! Ve vill fix him now!"

The door was closed behind them, but the listeners could hear them repairing the damage that Selim had done to the fuse.

Led by Selim, the four made a rush for the door leading into the chateau. They threw it open and passed through, firing as if for their lives. No one could tell how soon an explosion might bring disaster to the region; they put distance between them and the powder keg. Selim paused long enough to drop the bolts and turn the great key with the lever. At the second turn in the narrow corridor he overtook Chasse and the scurrying woman.

"Is there nothing to be done?" cried the princess. "Can we not prevent the explosion? They will cut off our means of escape in that!"

"I know too much about gunpowder, princess," said Chasse dryly, "to fool with it. It's like a mule. It kicks hard. Gad, it was hard to stand there and hear those brotes planning it all and not be able to stop them!"

The princess was once more at his side. He had clasped her arm to lead her securely in the wake of Neenab's electric lantern. She came to a sudden stop.

"And pray, Mr. Chasse," she said sharply, as if the thought occurred to her for the first time, "why didn't you stop them? You had the advantage. You and Selim could have surprised them—you could have taken them without a struggle!"

He laughed softly, deprecatingly, not a little impressed by the justice of her criticism.

"No doubt you consider me a coward," he said modestly.

"You know that I do not," she protested. "I—I can't understand your motive; that is all."

"I am the representative agent of these very men. I am the trusted agent of Sir John Brodney, who has refused to supplant me with another. I can't very well represent Sir John and at the same time make prisoners or corpses of his clients, even though I am being shielded by Blitz saying, even to himself, that I have not only stolen his vives, but have also cast him into the hands of his Philistines. It may sound quixotic to you, but I think that Lord Deppingham and Mr. Browne will understand my attitude."

"But Von Blitz has sworn to kill you," she expostulated, with some heat. "You are wanting your integrity, I must say, Mr. Chasse."

"Would you have me shoot him from ambush?" he demanded.

"Not at all. You could have taken him captive and held him safe until the time comes for you to leave the island."

"He would not have been my captive in any event. I could do no more than deliver him into the hands of his enemies. Would that be fair?"

"But he is a thief!"

"No more so than Taswell Skaggs and John Wyckholme, who unquestionably cheated the natives out of the very treasure we have seen carried away. I am not a constable nor a thief catcher. I am a soldier of the defense, not an officer of the crown, at this stage of the game. Today I shall contrive to send word to Russia that Von Blitz has stolen the treasure chests. Mr. Von Blitz will have a sad time explaining this little defection to his friends. We must not overlook the fact that Lady Deppingham and Robert Browne are quite willing to take everything from the Islanders. Everything that Taswell Skaggs and John Wyckholme possessed in this island belongs to them under the terms of the will."

They were at the top of the second flight of stairs by this time and quite a distance from the treasure chamber. His coolness, the absence of any sign of returning sentiment, was puzzling her sorely. Half an hour before she had been carried away, rendered helpless, by the passion that swayed him. Now he spoke and looked as if it he had forgotten the result of his storming. Strangely enough, she was piqued.

"When they came into the well light at night, consider he proceeded ruthlessly to upset all of her narrow calculations. He stopped suddenly, stepping directly in front of her. As she drew up in surprise he reached down and took both of her hands in his. For the moment she was too amazed to oppose this sudden action. She looked up into his face, many emotions in her own—reproof, wonder, dismay, hauteur, joy.

"Vat?" he said gently. They were quite alone. She saw the most wonderful light in his gray eyes. Her lips parted in quick, timorous confusion.

"I love you, I am glad for what I did down there. I couldn't help it—nor could you. Yet I took a cruel advantage of you. I know what you've been thinking too. You have been saying to yourself that I wanted to see how far I could go. Don't speak, I know! You are wrong. I've absolutely worshipped you since those first days in Thorberg, wildly, hopelessly, day and night. I was afraid of you—yes, afraid of you because you are a princess. But I've got over all that, Genera. You are a woman, a living, real woman, with the blood and the heart and the lips that were made for men to crave. I want to tell you this here in the light of day, not in the darkness that hid all the truth in me except that which you might have felt in my kiss."

"Please—please don't," she said once more, her lip trembling, her eyes full of the softness that the woman who loves cannot hide. "You shall not go on! It is wrong!"

"It is not wrong!" he cried hotly. "My love is not wrong. I want you to understand and to believe. I can't hope that you will be my wife. It's too wildly improbable. You are not for such as I. You are pledged to a man of your own world, your own exalted world. But listen, Genera. See my eyes call you darling even though my lips dare not. Genera, I'd give my soul to hear you say that you will be my wife. You do understand how it is with me?"

The delicious sense of possession that thrilled her, she let melt with the return of her self-esteem, in the restoration of that quality which proclaimed her a princess of the world. She was sure of him now. She was sure of herself. She had her emotions well in hand. And so, despite the delicious warmth that swept through her being, she chose to reveal no sign of it to him.

"I do understand," she said quietly, meeting his gaze with a directness that hurt him sorely. "And you, too, understand. I could not be your wife. I am glad, yet sorry, that you love me, and I am proud to have heard you say so. I want you. But I am a sensible creature, Mr. Chasse, and, being sensible, am therefore selfish. I have seen women of my unhappy station outside of their narrow confines in the search for lifelong joy with men who might have been kings but they had not been born happier stars—men of the great wide world instead of the soulless, heartless patch which such as I call a realm. Not one of a hundred of those women found the happiness they were so sure of grasping just outside their prison walls. It was not in the blood. We must marry and live and die in the sphere to which we were born. We must go through life unloved and uncherished, bringing prices into the world, seeing happiness and love just beyond our reach all the time. We are bound by chains no force can break—the chains of prejudice."

She had withdrawn her hands from his. He was standing before her as calm and unmoved as a statue.

"Just the same," he went on gently, "you love me as I love you. You kissed me. I could feel love in you then as I can see it in you now. You will marry Prince Karl in June, and all the rest of your life will be bleak December."

About Town
TO OWNERS OF CENTRAL PROPERTY

The advertiser desires to secure a building in a central location, close to but not on Jasper avenue, and would be glad to hear from property-owners who would be willing to erect a building, according to his requirements, on which he would take a long-term lease. Box 10, Capital.

The regular meeting of the Women's Hospital Aid will be held in All Saints' school house on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The adult Bible class will be held in the Y.W.C.A. parlors on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The international Sunday school lesson for April 10th will be taken up. All women and girls are invited to be present. A stranger's tea will be held at close of the class.

A lecture will be given next Tuesday at 8 p.m. by Rev. Father Simard, O.M.I., D.D., in the Immaculate Conception church. The subject will be "The Pope and His Authority," and as Rev. Simard spent eight years in Rome, his address will be very interesting.

At the King Edward—R. B. Snell; J. Augustus Ham; G. S. Barry; W. J. Jones; S. H. Smith; C. C. Jennings; R. D. McMillan; Stromer; E. Roberts; H. R. Cook; R. G. Fraser; Fort Saskatchewan; R. B. A meeting will be held in the Masonic Hall, Second street, on Tuesday, April 5th, at 8 p.m. sharp, for the purpose of proceeding with the formation of a new Masonic lodge in Edmonton. The business will be completion of charter, members' list, reports of committees, nomination and election of officers, and other Masonic business.

The Lloydminster Times says: "Land continues to move. Mr. R. B. Thomson reports two sales last week and others under way. Relatives in the States of Mr. C. W. Siegel purchased a C.P.R. quarter and a Hudson's Bay quarter, in township forty-seven, range one. The prices obtained were $18,450 and $16,000 per acre respectively. Mr. Siegel is one of our substantial farmers in the south country."

One Day West of Wm. Sugarman Where the Good Come From

At the regular meeting of the Edmonton District Temperance Union this afternoon the union will resume the discussion of the report of the Legislative Committee. This committee, of which Mrs. Ballantyne is chairwoman, brought in a very interesting report on needed legal reforms. All men and women interested in the work are invited to be present. The meeting will be held in the Mechanics' Hall at 4 o'clock.

The Vermilion Standard says: "Wiebe & Son have agreed to erect and operate a flour mill of 125 bbl. capacity in Vermilion in return for a free site, exemption from taxation for five years and partial exemption for a further period of another five years, and a loan of $10,000. The loan is repayable to the town in ten annual instalments together with interest. The town is to be fully protected by mortgage for the loan."

The Vermilion Standard says: "An example of the rate of increase in crop acreage throughout the Vermilion district can readily be grasped from the fact that a party who last year had 25 acres to crop has prepared for seed this spring 100 acres. Fifty acres of this is to be seeded to wheat. At this rate of increase which may safely be said to be general it will not be long before several hundred thousand bushels of wheat will be marketed here."

At the Empire.

"The Royal Chef," which was presented at the Empire Theatre last night was a comic opera—unmistakably so because it was all about nothing and had no less than two flag incidents. Being a comic opera it was meant to amuse and did so, the large audience which was present being most enthusiastic in its appreciation. Ben M. Jerome, who is named as the man responsible for the opera, is perhaps not so outstanding a man as his namesake, Jerome K., but he provided a good many opportunities for a laugh and filled in between with catchy music, which is, after all, what people want."

The Royal Chef is a Cook's tour of who happens along just when the Rajah of Oolong is in need of a new head for his royal kitchens. The Cook's tourist is impressed into the service in which he has many amusing experiences, going so far to make the Rajah's home really happy as to become a member of the harem. There are some bandits who act very wickedly and an American navy officer who checkmates the bandit, marries the Rajah's daughter and leaves the Royal Chef free to go back to his beloved Chicago.

William Conroy was the Royal Chef and was the central figure of the show. He made a big hit with the audience and earned all the applause he got. Miss Florence Sinnott was the leading lady. Miss Leona Heimerman, the comedienne, was quite pretty and sang her songs and did her dances very attractively. The rest of the support was fairly capable, but outside of the principals the great source of strength was the chorus, which looked well, sang well, was dressed well and danced well.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW

During the past week meetings have been held in All Saints, Christ Church, St. Paul's and St. Michael's. North Edmonton, in the interests of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, completing a successful trip through Alberta by Mr. H. S. Turner, the newly appointed travelling secretary.

On Saturday evening a meeting will be held in All Saints' schoolroom to discuss the formation of a Local Assembly which will unite the various local branches and that of Christ Church, Strathcona, for organized work throughout this district.

Commencing with two members, and starting about 25 years ago, this organization has now become a worldwide movement, there being branches in nearly every country where there is an Anglican Communion. In a quiet and unostentatious manner it is doing much to promote definite Christian work among the men and boys of the Church of England and the Episcopal Church in the United States.

Bishop, travelling secretary of the Y.M.C.A. A special invitation is extended to all men interested in Y.M.C.A. work.

On Thursday evening several of the teachers returned to the city from attending the Provincial Convention in Calgary. These were Miss Bell and Miss Kirkwood and Mr. Robertson and Mr. Clarke. On Friday the other teachers, Miss Blackney, and Miss Lyle, returned. Miss Porter is remaining a day longer with friends in Calgary. Inspector E. L. Hill also returned home last evening.

Canadian Inventor.

Washington, D.C., April 1.—To stop a ten thousand ton battleship going at full speed within her own length, is the problem which the United States Navy Department has set for a Canadian inventor. He has an arrangement like barn doors on the side of the ship which he guarantees to fulfill this function. The department has authorized a trial of the device on the battleship Indiana off Delaware Capes, April 17, the cost to be defrayed by the inventor.
